Guns and Cameras for C

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Two thousand airplanes for American fighting forces in France, authorized by the $450,000,000 aviation bill passed by Congress last July, are under construction.

The necessary motors also are being manufactured, Secretary H. C. Anderson announced today, and the war aircraft programme has been so expedited that when planes and motors are completed, trained pilots will be ready to fly the machines.

announced today, and the war aircraft programme has been so organized that when plans are formulated, the complete training of pilots, as well as machine gunners and all other equipment, will be well advanced for them. The army is expected to participate in the fighting and the navy will be ready. The types of planes cover the full range of types, from the lightest to the heaviest, fighting machines for powerful battle and bombing plus the heaviest design, and suitable for ground attack. The most notable of the work of the Italian Government, the British Handley-Page bomber.

"Within a reasonable time, under the period of preparation, Mr. Baker's statement that the British will send its first airplane to Europe. This airplane, from the point of its propeller to the tail, is made in the United States."

"There has been a remarkable change in the attitude of the Axis powers. This country has an unlimited supply of young men possessed with a sense of racial superiority and a determination to win the war by force and decision—the things that are the life service. This is the attitude of the tens of thousands of American boys flying."

MANY AVIATION SCHOOLS

Twenty-four flying schools in America are now operating, and the number will be doubled in the near future, and besides the thousands of men now in training here, students from all over the world are flocking to the United States. Allied countries, while many of them are undergoing intensive schooling in the United States, are also training their own men. The men now in Europe will be turned over as finished aviators to the United States.

American machines also are being built abroad, and Mr. Baker says that the number soon to be needed in the Allied countries will be made in the United States. He says that the United States is in the necessity for greatly developing and expanding the aircraft industry.

summer and part of the early fall have been devoted to this important work.

Time also has been required under government contract for the manufacture of many of the materials required for the construction of the ship for this government and the Allies, as well as the conservation and maintenance of the ship.

Provision also had to be made for the manufacture of the many accessories necessary to the ship, such as the engine and the observation apparatus, cameras and the like, and another essential part of the ship, the radio, for both America and its allies.

International standardization in the use of materials and their specifications was another problem.

The designing of a satisfactory cabin was another problem.

The "motor" was the result of the combined efforts of the builders of the country.

For the Secretary said, are satisfied with the progress in the construction of the ship.

It is not possible to make public details of the work accomplished.

He announced that the Department of the Interior has approved for consummation of its plan for the aircraft programme are the

"There is practically no limit to the number of aerial fighters we the United States can and will wish in the war for democracy," continued the Secretary. "No loss has been lost in experiments. Machines which already have proved successful will be reproduced in large numbers in this country."

YOU and The Bank for Everybody

THERE isn't much one Bank can do for you that another cannot. There are regulations which control the scope and kind of service.

But there is a great difference in the manner of rendering banking service. As if it were a favor, with implied obligation—or as if it were a pleasure, with manifest interest and cooperation.

"The Bank for Everybody" is appreciated for its cordial atmosphere and its genuinely personal service to every depositor. Each officer and employee is ready to do everything possible to serve a customer—just because he is a customer. We view that as part of a person's rights when we are honored with their business.

Let us render this cordial, helpful banking service to YOU.

SOCIETY.

News of an interesting arrival from Lansing, Mich., where, on Monday morning, a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Urston and Elizabeth Urston, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hughes, Miss Irene Sanford, Cotton Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whitmarsh, Roy Blackstone, Frank Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wilson.

Honor Captain.
Mrs. Donald MacDonald of Windsor boulevard entertained at dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Capt. Arthur Shaw. Covers were laid for ten.

Plan Benefit Market.
The French and Belgian "Marche," which is French for "market," will be an all-day affair, with stalls, good things to eat, snappy vaudeville under the guidance of Charlie Murray, and "pretty made all in a row." In fact, there are such pretty mads that every old and young bachelor in town threatens to take the 13th for a camping trip—and camp in the park. Mrs. Willoughby Rodman is one of the chief workers for the market, and Mrs. Hancock Banning is another. Miss Doris Collins, who has charge of the flower booth, and various charming maids of society will appear in costume to aid the sale of various articles. All proceeds from the day are to be given to the work of relief in France and Belgium, with especial attention to the children suffering from tuberculosis in the stricken countries.

Honor Comrade.
To honor one of their associates, Raleigh H. Pryor, who left Thursday morning for American Lake, Wash., the members of the clerical and editorial staffs of the local office of the Bradstreet company entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. John E. Mansberger, No. 154 North Carondelet street. Various amusements were provided, including cards and music, followed by an elaborate luncheon. The close of which Mr. Pryor was presented, on behalf of his co-workers, with a handsome pipe and tobacco pouch. Those present included Raleigh H. Pryor, LaVerne M. Watson, Richard I. Bowwell, Max R. Holmes, Arthur C. Cornell, Justin P. O'Connor, William E. Fieser, Ralph B. Parker, Jackson C. Lasky, Granville E. Jones, Earl Merambla, Colin D. Case, Becher Manning, Bernard E. Storer, Fred A. Lovejoy, and John E. Mansberger.

Back from Outing.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Newton returned yesterday from a month's trip to Big Bear Lake, and an outing at Glenn ranch. They will live at the Shatto apartments for the coming winter.

Compliments Bride.
Mrs. C. A. Perry of Glendale was hostess at a luncheon recently complimentary to Mrs. Hope Nash of this city, who is a bride of a few weeks. The house was decorated with roses and delicate greenery and suspended from the ceiling was a miniature airplane. This unique decoration meant much to the young bride, since Mr. Nash, who enlisted before their marriage and has been in training in Florida for the airplane service, graduated yesterday and expected to be transferred at once to Texas, where Mrs. Nash was to join him, but it develops that he will probably be sent direct to France. The guests were Mrs. P. E. Nash, Mrs. Joy Nash Ford, Mrs. Beth Nash Fennesse, Mrs. Jo Cameron, Miss Alice Goldsmith, Miss De Vaughn, Miss Bernice Ryan and Mrs. E. Jones, all of Los Angeles, and Mrs. N. C. Hyer of Seal Beach.

Mrs. Willoughby Rodman is one of the chief workers for the market, and Mrs. Hancock Banning is another. Miss Doris Collins, who has charge of the flower booth, and various charming maids of society will appear in costume to aid the sale of various articles. All proceeds from the day are to be given to the work of relief in France and Belgium, with especial attention to the children suffering from tuberculosis in the stricken countries.

Honor Comrade.
To honor one of their associates, Raleigh H. Pryor, who left Thursday morning for American Lake, Wash., the members of the clerical and editorial staffs of the local office of the Bradstreet company entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. John E. Mansberger, No. 154 North Carondelet street. Various amusements were provided, including cards and music, followed by an elaborate luncheon. The close of which Mr. Pryor was presented, on behalf of his co-workers, with a handsome pipe and tobacco pouch. Those present included Raleigh H. Pryor, LaVerne M. Watson, Richard I. Bowwell, Max R. Holmes, Arthur C. Cornell, Justin P. O'Connor, William E. Fieser, Ralph B. Parker, Jackson C. Lasky, Granville E. Jones, Earl Merambla, Colin D. Case, Becher Manning, Bernard E. Storer, Fred A. Lovejoy, and John E. Mansberger.

Back from Outing.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Newton returned yesterday from a month's trip to Big Bear Lake, and an outing at Glenn ranch. They will live at the Shatto apartments for the coming winter.

Compliments Bride.
Mrs. C. A. Perry of Glendale was hostess at a luncheon recently complimentary to Mrs. Hope Nash of this city, who is a bride of a few weeks. The house was decorated with roses and delicate greenery and suspended from the ceiling was a miniature airplane. This unique decoration meant much to the young bride, since Mr. Nash, who enlisted before their marriage and has been in training in Florida for the airplane service, graduated yesterday and expected to be transferred at once to Texas, where Mrs. Nash was to join him, but it develops that he will probably be sent direct to France. The guests were Mrs. P. E. Nash, Mrs. Joy Nash Ford, Mrs. Beth Nash Fennesse, Mrs. Jo Cameron, Miss Alice Goldsmith, Miss De Vaughn, Miss Bernice Ryan and Mrs. E. Jones, all of Los Angeles, and Mrs. N. C. Hyer of Seal Beach.

Miss Doris Collins and her pet. Miss Collins will have charge of a booth at the French and Belgian market a week from Saturday.

IDENTITY'S AN ODD MYSTERY.

Well-dressed Stranger Drops Dead on Street—Reward for Information.

An unidentified man dropped dead on the sidewalk in front of No. 348 North Los Angeles street yesterday. The remains were taken to the mortuary of Bramble & Moss, and the undertakers are now offering a reward to the person whose information leads to the location of relatives of the deceased.

The man was about 50 years old, had blue eyes, light brown hair, thin, tanned face and gray mustache. His height was five feet and ten inches, weight 150 pounds. He had several gold-crowned teeth. His shoes were bought in Pueblo. He wore a gray Sincerity suit, a No. 7-1-5 dark gray fedora hat, a blue shirt with collar attached, and laundry marks No. 291 and "A.M.X."

at 10:30 o'clock at Clune's Auditorium.

Point of View Note.

"What a wonderful romance," sighed the romantic lady as she edged out of Tally's Broadway with the crowd, after viewing "The Bar Sinister."

"Gee, it was a great scrap!" agreed the small boy on her side.

No slang is slang.

One of the plays Manager Oliver Morosco is reported to have secured for stock production is entitled "Pipes of Peace." The play has nothing to do with critics.

Gladys Catcher Live Scorpion.

There's a new member of Gladys Brockwell's company at the Fox studio. He has a repulsive appearance and a nasty disposition, and he wasn't really invited to join the company anyhow.

He is none other than a large and very hairy scorpion, whose only use seems to be that he lends color of proof to the statement of Fox's publicity experts that his antique picture, "The Awakening," really did come from Mexico.

That Miss Brockwell is with us today instead of in the hospital is perhaps due to the fact she saw the scorpion and saw him first. Not being any time slow in her movements at any time, and with motion accelerated by fear, the clever young woman just plopped her hat right down over the scorpion as the creature ran out of an ancient chest. Quickly arrived a property man with a large bottle, in which the reptile now crawls about quite harmlessly. In the meantime, Miss Brockwell is trying to persuade Bertram Bracken, her new director, not to write in a part for the reptile.

George Stone with Fox.

George Stone, one of the cleverest children in films, who went for a long time identified with the Fine Arts kid company, has been engaged by the Fox company. George will play the leading role in a forthcoming kid picture to be directed by the Franklin Brothers.

May Check Their Knitting.

The knitters have invaded the Orpheum. All during the performance last Monday night a series of society women sat in the right-hand boxes and plied their needles. Later, the custom of bringing one's knitting to the theater increased in popularity. It may be found necessary to check the knitting outside in order that fair knitters who grow excited watching acts on the stage, and who lay their knitting on adjoining empty seats, may be the cause of impaling innocent theatergoers who come in late and sit down on the needles.

Not Intended Cautily.

"I see you're wearing a sub-deb gown this week," said Miss Eva Taylor, Orpheum star, to Miss Clara Howard, ditto, yesterday.

"A sub-deb gown? Why, what's that?" inquired Miss Howard.

"Why, don't you know—sub-deb means nearly out," explained Miss Taylor demurely.

Wallop for Wagner.

Grace Travers, playing one of the leading roles in "Under Pressure," at the Mason, this week, was attending tea not the other day. There was music, and Miss Travers was discussing it with Constantine, the famous tenor.

"I like Wagner, Strauss—stomach music!" explained Miss Travers.

"Ah, I see," responded Constantine. "You like noise with your music!"

A Good Time Was Had.

A "spaghetti soiree" followed by a moonlight swimming party, were the principal events of a party given by Virginia Chester and Marin Sals at Miss Sals's home on Verdugo road, Glendale, last Tuesday evening. The guests were various members of the Mens Film Company, of which Miss Chester is leading woman, with J. P. McDowell and Helen Holmes, of the Signal Film Company, as additional guests.

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Burbank.
Ruth Stonehouse is the only girl I've seen who can really be convincing as a tough little mickery of the alleys, and then put on a "stunning" gown and make a beautiful society bud of herself.

The pawn-shop fence, who is her father in "The Edge of the Law," has taught her to lay her hands on, and when she decides to "turn straight" she finds this second nature embarrassing. The story is a good one, as most Butterfly pictures are; however, this one could stand about one and a half reels pruning without withering a particle.

Marie Corin has a sweet voice that makes an instant appeal to an untrained voice, and although it is untrained and true now, the wear and tear of vaudeville will not do it any good. Scott Buttersworth assures us that "You Don't Have to Be Born in Ireland to be Irish," and then after an "honest-ter-Gawd-

MANY TELEGRAMS TO TOM GERAGHTY.

Thomas Geraghty, who adapted Peter B. Kyne's story "A Man's Man," now enjoying a record run at Clune's Auditorium, featuring Warren Kerrigan, was the recipient of numerous telegrams of congratulation on the opening night of the production. Bennie Zeldman, literary agent for Douglas Fairbanks, sent Geraghty a dozen or more telegrams from Los Angeles, addressed to Geraghty's home in Hollywood.

These telegrams all contained the congratulations of President Wilson, D. W. Griffith, Mack Sennett, Thomas Ince, Senator Johnson, Gov. Stephens and other celebrities.

Mr. Geraghty, who hails from County Cork, took the joke with a true Irish humor until he found that the messages were sent C.O.D., and he now says he is going to send Bennie one of the elephants from the "Intolerance" set, and ship it C.O.D.

MATZENAUER SINGS OUR NATIONAL AIR.

Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, the distinguished contralto who inaugurates the Los Angeles music season, next Tuesday evening, at the Trinity Auditorium, has created a sensation in San Francisco, where she has been for the last ten days. Both as soloist with the orchestra and in her two recitals she has added further to her already well-established reputation.

In her last recital she sang "The Star Spangled Banner," motioning to the audience to join in; imagine her amazement as she herself expressed the sensation, when they failed to respond. A professor from Berkeley university contended that probably they did not know the words. Another believed that the audience was so astounded that they remained mute from surprise. In reality it was probably because each one was loath to lose one note of the golden voice.

ARCHITECT SENTENCED.

Norman Geddes, a youthful architect, who was arrested last Tuesday by Detective Toomey on a charge of mutilating books in the public library, was given a suspended sentence of six months by Judge Richardson, yesterday.

LYMAN J. GAGE HERE.

Lyman J. Gage of San Diego, former Secretary of the Treasury, is spending a few days in Los Angeles on private business. Mr. Gage is registered at the Van Nuys Hotel.

DETECTIVE CAPTAIN SIGNALLY HONORED.

Appreciation of Good Service Shown in Eloquent Tribute from Men Who Have for Years been Associated with Officer During His Career in this City.

Honor was paid George K. Home, captain of detectives, last night at an elaborate banquet served at the Sierra Madre Club. More than fifty of the police officers' loyal friends and admirers were present, all wishing him success in the position which has just been made permanent.

As a signal token of their respect and admiration for him his friends, including scores of the men of the police force, presented to Capt. Home a diamond-studded gold badge, containing three large diamonds and numerous small ones. The shield is one of the handsomest ever given an officer in this city.

The badge was presented by Rev. Glenn MacWilliams, secretary to Mayor Woodman, who paid a glowing tribute to the recipient. He told Capt. Home "you are loved by your fellow men because of the fact that you possess in you the heart of a real human being."

In accepting the beautiful gift, Capt. Home said words could not express his feeling of gratitude. "I am truly appreciative of this expression of your confidence in me and it is my only wish that I can do my duty and always be worthy of your friendship," he said.

Sheriff John Cline, who was largely responsible for the happy event, introduced Rev. Baker P. Lee as the toastmaster. The minister called upon the following, all of whom spoke in eloquent and complimentary terms of the guest of honor: Harry Chandler, who says Capt. Home has first job, that of a carrier for The Times twenty-five years ago; Acting U. S. Dist. Atty. Robert O'Connor, Superior Judge Willis, Rev. J. W. Brougher, Superior Judge McCormick, Superior Judge Jackson, Attorney Frank Domar, U. S. Marshall Walton and Ralph Hecht.

WHO COMES NEXT?

MAXINE ELLIOTT IS EXPECTED IN LOS ANGELES.

By Grace Kingsley.

It is expected that Maxine Elliott will shortly come West to make at least one picture for the Goldwyn company. It is understood negotiations are under way to secure the old Fine Arts studio on Hollywood boulevard as the western studio for Goldwyn, in which case it is understood the Keystone-Triangle company will remove to the Culver City Triangle studios.

The first picture in which Maxine Elliott has ever appeared is to be shown at Quinn's Rialto next week. It is entitled "Fighting Odds," and in order to make it, Miss Elliott returned from her relief work in France and Belgium, where she did noble service both financially and personally. At present her beautiful face is in London, serving as a hospital, for the remodeling of which into a house of mercy she paid personally.

To Miss Elliott's credit also is the outfitting of a houseboat in Flanders to be used as a private hospital, and one of her most prized possessions is a decoration which the gallant Belgian King, Albert, pinned on her uniform while the little floating hospital was under fire. In 1915, Miss Elliott sent her first ambulance unit to the battle front, and during the same year she organized a number of supply relief stations throughout the devastated lands. One of the most noble achievements of Miss Elliott is the installing of relief barges that are now in full operation along the canals of the Marne, and when she left France last year President Poincaré personally presented her with the French War Cross, perhaps the highest decoration of the brave republic.

Her crowning achievement, however, is the erection of a little home in the suburbs of London, where twenty-five little Belgian orphans are being cared for and raised. She has given the home a yearly appropriation, and when Goldwyn signed her to appear in "Fighting Odds," she brought three of the little tots to this country with her. One of these appears with her in the picture.

LEAGUE GIVES SONG PRIZES.

Winners of Doheny Patriotic Contest are Announced.

Nearly Thousand Lyrics are Examined by Judges.

Music to Accompany Words to be New Competition.

As prizes in the Doheny song contest, which has been pending since last March, $1000 in prizes was distributed by the Practical Patriotic League yesterday.

The first section of the contest closed April 11, in which nearly 1000 song poems were submitted. Judges worked over these for nearly three months, finally rendering a decision that no one of the poems submitted was quite what was called for. The contest was then resubmitted and reopened July 11, and closed August 11.

Four hundred and sixty-three song poems were turned in for the second submission in the contest.
Several committees have been appointed since starting them. These judging committees had before them absolutely no clue to authorship, as after the first sifting the poems were listed as worthy of further consideration were all typewritten on the same machine, with no identification but the number.

The select list of poems was passed upon by committees with qualifications to decide both as to poetical quality, patriotic fervor and lyrical quality—the poems were passed upon here, and in Chicago and in Washington. The final consensus of judgment placed the prizes as follows:

First prize, $500: Mrs. Etchelen
Tyler Gawn, No. 1233 West Thirty-fifth street; second prize, $250, Gertrude H. Andrews, 1031 Van Nuys

ington Park.

Mr. Doheny by wire instructed the League to immediately open a contest for one prize of $500 for the best music. This contest will be open for one month, closing November 1.
Composers may select the words of either the first prize song, or the second prize song. One contestant may submit for both songs, if desired, but no one contestant may submit more than one composition for each set of words.

All compositions not chosen will be returned to the contestants. The award of the one prize of $500 will involve the complete ownership of the copyright right to both words and music and words and music together, by the Practical Patriotic League.

Contestants should submit their compositions under names or in-distinguishing marks or ornamentation of any sort. With each composition send a sealed envelope containing the name and address. These will not be opened until after the contest is decided.

Deliver or mail to the office of the Practical Patriotic League, room 411,
No. 424 South Spring street.
Following is the first poem by Mrs. Gawn, which won the first prize of $500:

Where the balmy towers in fragrance, on the rocky shores of Maine,
Where the orange blossoms smile in Daisy Land,
Where the purple heights of mountains lift beside the Golden Gate,
Rise the nation's flower of manhood, sword in hand.

CHORUS:
Lift the starry banner high!
Set its bars against the sky!
Let the torch of freedom flame in glory's van
Not for land or gold we come,
But to guard the weaker one
And uphold the nation's brotherhood of man!

La Belle France, the wide world's sweetheart, stands with dauntless bleeding breast,
Through the cloud-wrack Ruman's quenchless spirit gleams
From her far-flung borders England calls her children to arms, Martred Belgium, red Verdun and shattered Rheims.

As the crimson autumn leaves melt upon the angry flood,
So the lives of men are tossed on death's black tide;
But the story of their passing, like an organ roll sublime, Stirs humanity's torn heart with solemn pride.

Till the mailed fist is dust, till the hymn of hate is still'd, Till forevermore the battle thunders cease,
We will storm the gates of hell with the sword of righteous wrath, Till we win for man his birthright—andless peace.

DOCTOR FINED FOR ALLEGED MAIL FRAUD.

Dr. George B. Rowell of San Bernardine, who had pleaded guilty with Nelson Wilson, of a conspiracy to use the mails in a scheme to defraud, involving the defrauding of the Travelers Insurance Company of Hartford, Ct., and the Commonwealth Casualty and Bonding Company of Fort Worth, Tex., out of $12,000, was sentenced by Judge Tripp yesterday to pay a fine of $250, which he did.

In presenting the case to the court, Assistant United States Attorney Moody said there was no evidence that Dr. Rowell had profited financially by signing his name to the medical certificates setting out that Wilson had been injured as claimed in the application for the payment of the accident claims.
The connection of Dr. Rowell with the Wilson case has now cost him $1000, he having paid $750 on a plea of guilty in the State courts.

PHYSICIAN LEAVES.

Resigning his practice for a commission as lieutenant in the National Army, Dr. C. Frederick Curtis of Hollywood left yesterday for American Lake, in accordance with orders from Washington. Dr. Curtis is a graduate of Bowdoin College of Maine, Herring College in Chicago and Bellevue Hospital in New York.

JEFF: THERE'S A VERY INTERESTING ARTICLE HERE ABOUT THE PRESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES FROM WASHINGTON DOWN TO WILSON!
MUTT: WHAT DOES IT SAY, MUTT?
JEFF: WELL, WASHINGTON WAS CALLED "THE FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY" BECAUSE HE WAS OUR FIRST PRESIDENT. JACKSON WAS CALLED "OLD HICKORY," BECAUSE HE WAS OUR MARTYRED PRESIDENT.
MUTT: WHAT DOES IT SAY ABOUT TEDDY?
JEFF: IT SAYS TEDDY WAS A VERY BELLOCOSE PRESIDENT.
MUTT: BELLOCOSE?
JEFF: YOU MEAN TAFT, DON'T YOU? WHY, TAFT'S GOT A WAIST LIKE A—

Bevo
A BEVERAGE
Watch!!!
For some years, various and sundry concerns have been making beverages which are grouped under the general description of "near-beer."

Look!!
There are these certain identification marks that are your protection against imitations. Not just imitations of the product, remember—but those more insinuating imitations which try to deceive you by putting an old failure into a bottle similar to a new success. So look for these unmistakable marks of the genuine Bevo—demand that the bottle be opened in front of you, then—

Look for the Seal
See that it is unbroken covering the Crown Top
Look at the Crown Top, and see that it bears the Fox
Be sure the Bottle bears this Label!

Listen!
Bevo is a pure drink. This means more than that it contains pure ingredients—it means that though you might often well be afraid of possible germs in milk or water, Bevo, being a pasteurized product in sterilized bottles, is absolutely free from bacteria.
Bevo is a nutritive beverage—the fine cereals from which it is made give it this quality.
Bevo is a delightful and refreshing soft drink—unlike any you have ever tasted—indeed a Triumph in Soft Drink.
You can't get these good qualities in anything but Bevo—demand the genuine.
You will find Bevo at inns, cafeterias, restaurants, groceries, department and drug stores, soda fountains, dining cars, steamships, cantines, soldiers' homes, navy, and other places where refreshing beverages are sold. Your grocer will supply you by the case. Bevo is sold in bottles only—and is bottled exclusively by
